

City of Morgan Hill Demonstration Gardens

AQUATICS CENTER

Features

- Drought tolerant plants
- Drip irrigation
- Mulch ground cover

Located to the east of the Aquatics Center main entrance, this former lawn area was converted to a drought tolerant landscape. This landscape features dozens of drought tolerant African olive trees amongst a layer of mulch. Mulch and drip irrigation and are in place to reduce water use while encouraging a healthy soil.

Aquatics Center
Scientific Name	Common Name
Olea africana	African Olive

African Olive Trees in front of Aquatic Center